

...JUST ADD RACERS

Introducing the H2X Tour, presented by Sea-Doo, WizzardX Media, and Res-Q Energy Drink...There have been many rumors and comments on what should be done on an event weekend...and everyone has their own opinion. H2X Promotions (formerly Surf and Turf Promotions), has decided to act upon the request of the enthusiasts from every discipline of PWC competition and is proud to announce our new innovations to help promote the growth and fun factor of Personal Watercraft Racing.

For starters there will be a new 3 day format for all H2X events to include an Endurance racing format on Fridays to include multiple long course endurance races. The planned classes are Pro-Am Open which will be a 45 minute +1 lap race and Pro-Am Stock and Novice Stock which will be a 30 minute +1 lap format. This will provide a great opportunity for racers to get some warm up and win some cash in the paying classes!

But Wait! There's more! H2X Racing is announcing its new and innovative sport growth enhancer! On Friday's there will also be a Beginner Racing School with a lot of great benefits to first time watercraft participants plus they will get hooked on racing the right way! The first time racer will receive a coupon sheet to save them money on many great race related products and be thoroughly instructed on the right way to go racing both on and off the course. Helmet and goggle rentals will be available for those who do not have them with prior reservations for school participants. The 3 hour school will include instruction on how to set up your ski with particular attention paid to setting up handling, how to register, pre and post race procedures, core exercises for watercraft racing, proper race maintenance, basic to advanced riding and racing techniques, starting and timing technique, and the day will culminate with each beginner doing a race against the clock and the fastest Beginner will receive prizes and a trophy including a free set of HT Moto mats for their ski, aside from the fact they will be properly prepared and ready to be licensed and go racing in the closed course Beginners class on Saturday and Sunday at the event. The school will be taught by multi-time APBA. National Champion and Pro Racer Rob Greenwald aboard his Yamaha Factory Sponsored race skis'. Rob taught racing schools for several years in the Budweiser Championship Series in the mid to late 90s and has privately coached many southeast racers over the years. The beginner program will be promoted through all the dealerships in proximity to each H2X Race stop on the 2009 series in order to create awareness of the sport and to bring in new blood. It's time to share our great sport with everyone who rides and everyone gets rewarded! Any racer who gets a beginner to pre-register for the Beginner Racing School program will receive a H2X Racing gift certificate good toward $20 cash off your race entries for each racer they bring, so it's time to start encouraging your friends and people who show interest where you ride to come try the great sport of Personal Watercraft Racing!

Attention all Freestylers...WE DID NOT FORGET YOU! Freestyle Competition will be held as a bracket-style competition, competing one-on-one with the winner advancing, which gives a competitor the opportunity to stay on the water more than two minutes, and no one has to draw the dreaded "1" ball to go first. This will enable each rider to showcase their skills one-on-one and provide more accurate judging.

The inaugural H2X Tour will feature four popular USA racing destinations, with new sites, a show format highlighting the Pro Classes, Overall H2X Tour Championships and Pro point's cash purse, reduced classes, 2 APBA Nationals, Endurance racing, a dealer support program, with Freestyle Motocross at select events and the Slip-n-slide Nationals/Finals Party in Macon at the finals! The H2X Tour schedule is at the bottom of this page.

ATTENTION ALL RACERS... racer profiles with headshots and action shots for the event program are wanted from everyone intending on participating on the tour by May 1st. Please send the address below. There is limited advertising space left for this program that will feature racer profiles, tour overview, schedules and more. This will also help to create a fan base for the racer and give the events a more professional image, for more information contact Mike Young at H2X Racing at 850-376-5495 or mpyoungjr@aol.com.
